

NO SECRET AGREEMENTS, EISENHOWER SAYS

About Town

And Country
By TIMOTHEUS T.

MAIL: While Timmo was taking a few days off in June Bill Melton wrote a column about the old Russell House near the depot that was being torn down.

Mrs. Ella M. Chatfield of Harrisburg Route 1 has written a letter which says more about this old timer in the history of Harrisburg.

Says Mrs. Chatfield's letter:

"I was looking over the Registers after we came home from Tulsa, Okla. The old Russell House brings back past days for me.

"My father, William N. White, bought Grandma Parker's hotel. It was facing east then. Our home is just across the corner yet — my brother Charles and wife live there.

"Dad had the hotel two days when Matthew Joyner, now deceased, bought it. Dad paid $1,000 for it and sold it to Mr. Joyner for $2,000. He laughed and said 'that was the fastest money I ever made.'

"The building had been for sale many days. This was in 1901.

"Mr. Joyner had a bake shop there on the corner."

Our Daily Register got some publicity the other day in the Austin, Texas, newspaper.

The information was supplied to the paper by Chick Mullinix, former Harrisburg citizen.

Here is the complete story as it appears right up at the top of the front page:

"Chick Mullinix, who drives a truck for Texas Quarries, Inc., dropped by the office Thursday to offer proof the folks up North think Davy Crockett was a swell fellow highway."

"Nothing to this business about the Yankee who called Crockett a juvenile delinquent," Mullinix said.

"He produced a copy of his hometown newspaper, the Harrisburg (Ill.) Daily Register.

"The paper featured two large page one pictures of Fess Parker, Texas-born actor who has portrayed Davy Crockett on television, as he dedicated a new Illinois-Kentucky highway."

"The highway is called the 'Davy Crockett Route.'"

"Thought you'd like to know some of those Yankees are pretty nice folks," said Mullinix."

I have a ferocious monster here on my desk. It is a worm. A big green worm. It probably wouldn't hurt you but we're not giving it any chances.

It was found by six-year-old Gary Elliot in his grandmother's front yard.

The Carmi Times reports that the Evansville Courier reports that homes for a free bridge across the Wabash river at New Harmony have hit a snag, despite the fact that the final payment of $175,000 on the bridge bonds has been made.

This was disclosed when Virgil Smith, chairman of the Indiana Highway commission, said his state undoubtedly would reject an offer by the White County Bridge commission to turn the present toll span over to Indiana and Illinois.

At present the charge is 50 cents one way and 60 cents round trip.

Cpl. Terry Downen, 22, dies in sleep at home of brother in Shawneetown

Inquest Tonight in Deaths of Three Persons in 2-Car Crash

Three Kentucky Men, All Hurt, Held by Coroner

Funeral Services In Thompsonville Area Tuesday for Three Dead

Additional evidence in the two-car head-on crash that took the lives of three persons from the Thompsonville area was expected to be heard at the inquest tonight.

Coroner Elmer M. Gibbons said the inquest would be held at 7 p. m. at the Eldorado city hall.

Killed were Tillman Reed, 72, his wife, Hattie, 65, and Lewis Hughes, 63. Mr. Hughes and Mr. Reed were farmers.

Reed was killed instantly in the crash that occurred around 9 a. m. three miles north of Eldorado on U. S. Route 45. His wife and Hughes died in Ferrell hospital, Eldorado, about 11:45 a. m.

Taken to Ferrell hospital were the three occupants of the other car, all from Mayfield, Ky. They were Aaron Colson, 35, James Alton, and Franklin Houston.

Investigate Crash

Reports were that Colson suffered a leg injury, Alton a back injury and Houston lesser injuries.

Investigating the crash were Coroner Gibbons, State Police Sergeant Herbert Barmlet of Equality and State Police Officer Catharine Alexander, who said that Hughes and Colson were the drivers.

They reported that Colson was driving south, Hughes north when the crash occurred.

Hughes and Mr. and Mrs. Reed were the occupants of one of four or five cars carrying members of a Free Will Baptist church near Thompsonville to Old River, near New Haven, Ill., for a fish fry.

The pastor of the church, the Rev. Vernell Clark, was in the first car and Hughes was driving the second.

The head-on collision resulted, the officers said, when Colson pulled out of his lane of traffic into Hughes' lane as Colson attempted to pass a truck driven by John Williams of Eldorado.

To Order Men Held

When officers arrived at the scene Reed was dead and his wife and Hughes were pinned in the wrecked car. A winch truck was needed to pull the car apart enough to remove them. They were rushed to Ferrell hospital by ambulance but did not live long.

Coroner Gibbons said that he would order the three Kentucky men held as material witnesses in the incident. In all probability, it was learned, Houston would be able to testify at the inquest.

State police said that seven beer cans, five full and two punctured, were found in the Colson car following the crash.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Reed were taken to the Courtney funeral home at Benton.

Reed Rites Tuesday

The funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Reed will be held at 11 a. m. Tuesday at the Mt. Zion Free Will Baptist church two and a half miles south of Thompsonville. Rev. Clark, the pastor, will conduct the service assisted by the Rev. Barney Searles of Thompsonville. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Zola McClarren of near Thompsonville and Mrs. Lola Coleman of Harvey, Ill.; two brothers of Mr. Reed, Robert Reed of Chicago and Charlie Reed of West Frankfort; a sister of Mr. Reed, Mrs. Thomas Gray of West Frankfort.

Wife Speeds Ahead of Runaway Van Driven by Husband to Avert Disaster

WINSTED, Conn. (U.P.) — The driver of a 10-ton horse van that roared through Winsted at 80 miles an hour Sunday, its brakes gone, today credited his fast thinking with averting a disaster.

John McFaun, of Ipswich, Mass., was driving home after a horse show in nearby Salisbury when he began to descend a hill leading into Winsted. His transmission broke as he was trying to shift to a lower gear range and he burned out the brakes trying to stop the huge van.

Mrs. Katherine McFaun, who had been driving behind the truck when its brakes went out, sped ahead of the runaway and gave the warning at three busy intersections where the truck ran red lights.

Her husband stopped the truck, which carried two men and four horses in its trailer, on an upgrade on the other side of town. The couple was so unnerved that neither could speak for about 20 minutes after the incident.

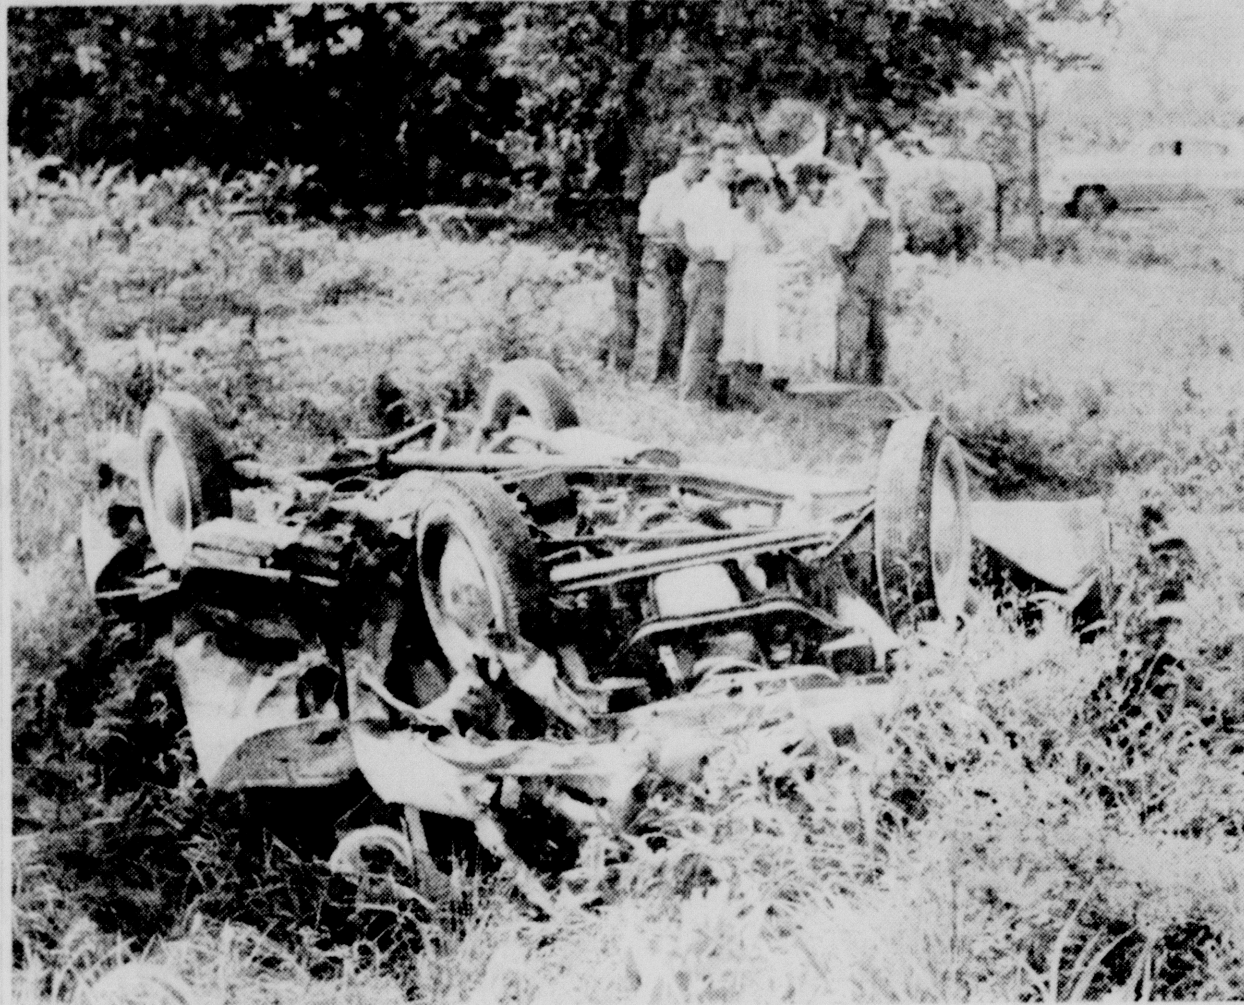

As the rig gathered speed down the hill, Mrs. McFaun saw that something was wrong and pulled alongside.

"No brakes, I can't stop. It's a runaway," McFaun shouted.

Mrs. McFaun jammed down the accelerator of her car and raced ahead at over 80 miles an hour, shouting "runaway" and blaring out the brakes trying to stop the runaway.

Patrolman Abraham Reshna, on duty near a main street church, said, "I heard a lot of tooting and shouting and cleared traffic before I knew what was happening. Then they went through three red lights. They were weaving in and out of traffic at terrific speed."

Mrs. McFaun probably saved a lot of lives by her warning, Reshna said.

THE DEATH CAR, in which Mr. and Mrs. Tillman Reed and Lewis Hughes of Thompsonville met their death north of Eldorado, is seen where it landed 20 feet from the highway and 40 feet from the point of impact with a car driven by Aaron Colson of Mayfield, Ky. In the background is the covered body of Mr. Reed, killed instantly, as a group of persons stands around. His wife and Hughes died later in Ferrell hospital in Eldorado. (Photo by H. Bramlett)

Congress Sees Little Hope of Adjourning By Saturday Target Date

By United Press

Congress entered what was supposed to be its final week today with little hope of adjourning by the Saturday night target date despite scheduled long sessions.

Congressional leaders talked hopefully about adjourning Aug. 3 and more realistically about Aug. 6.

For a change, the Senate was in good shape. Most of the log-jam was in the House.

House Democratic Leader John McCormack (Mass.) said the big stumbling block to adjournment this week was failure of the House Rules committee to turn loose a public housing bill. He laid the blame to the committee's four Republicans.

But Rep. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) contended that Southern Democrats have bottled up legislation on housing, education, health and refugees.

Thurman Thomas Dies at Eldorado

Thurman Thomas, 59, an employee of the Nave Greenhouse in Eldorado, died at his home on U. S. Route 45 south of Eldorado Saturday at 4:30 p. m. He had been sick for one week and death came suddenly from a heart attack.

He leaves his father, Sam Thomas, Galatia, one daughter, Miss Betty Lou Thomas, Eldorado, and one brother, Maylon Thomas, Detroit, Mich.; four sisters, Mrs. Tom Staffey, Eldorado, Mrs. Mary Howe, Galatia, Mrs. Rose Molton, Thompsonville, Mrs. Mima Duffey, Gary, Ind.

Two brothers, Clint and Ira, and one sister, Mrs. Nora Walls, preceded him in death, also his wife, Mrs. Lillie May Thomas, who died Sept. 16, 1951.

The funeral was today at 2 p. m. at the Eldorado Gospel Assembly church. Rev. Vachel Davis conducted the service and burial was in the Durham cemetery at Long Branch. The Bean and Tanner funeral home was in charge.

Funeral Services Held Today for Chas. T. McKenzie

Charles T. McKenzie, who was recently re-elected to the office of police magistrate in Harrisburg, died Saturday at 3:15 p. m. at his home, 412 North Main, at the age of 71. Death was due to a disease of the nerves from which he had suffered for around three weeks.

Mr. McKenzie, who was also serving a four year term as Justice of Peace, was appointed two years ago as police magistrate to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Gay Brashear.

He was born in Harrisburg Sept. 13, 1883, the son of the late A. D. McKenzie who also served terms as police magistrate and justice of peace. On August 2, 1905, he married Lulu Cannon who survives him.

His activities included being secretary of the Modern Woodmen of America, member of the Eagles lodge, a member of the Methodist church for 50 years and of the Methodist Men.

Besides his wife he leaves one son, Charles V. McKenzie, one granddaughter, Mrs. Charline Johnson, and two great-grandchildren, Karyn and Floyd McKenzie Johnson, all of Denver, Colo.

Funeral services were held today at 2:30 p. m. at the Gaskins funeral home. Rev. W. L. Cummings officiated and burial was in Sunset Hill cemetery.

Mr. Cochran will remain on thru Thursday and Friday, going over general forest problems.

He is especially interested in the 33,000 acres of plantation on the Forest and will inspect a new Forest highway being built by the state with federal funds. This is a blacktop road being constructed from Route 1 to Pounds Hollow, on to Karbers Ridge and to Route 34.

The road already has been blacktopped from Route 1 to a point past Pounds Hollow and the stretch from Karbers Ridge to Route 34 is ready for blacktopping.

The area in the center, from Pounds to Karbers Ridge, is in the rough graded stage. The entire 115 miles will be blacktopped this year.

Son of Secretary Of Navy Thomas Weds

HAYWARD, Calif. (U.P.) — Roger Thomas, son of Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas, was honeymooning today following his marriage Sunday to Gwenna Lee Coyne at the Trinity Episcopal Church here.

Thomas, 25, was recently released from active duty in the Navy. He is a graduate of U.C.L.A. His 22-year-old bride, a 1954 graduate of the University of California, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee J. Coyne of Hayward.

The couple plans to live in the San Francisco bay area following a honeymoon in Mexico.

Maj. Gen. Gates Lashes Back At AF Charges

Denies Wrongdoing While Commander At Chanute Base

CHANUTE AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. (U.P.) — Maj. Gen. Byron E. Gates was confident today that an Air Force investigation will clear him of charges that he favored private business while commanding the Chanute Air Force Base.

The 60-year-old general, who boasts that he likes to cut Air Force "red tape," flatly denied any wrongdoing and said he was "startled and appalled" by the charges.

He promised he would "vigorously" fight the charges and was "confident that when all the facts are presented I will be completely vindicated by military authority."

The Air Force meanwhile named Maj. Gen. John H. McCormick, commander of the Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Tex., to investigate the allegations. He will decide if Gates should be brought before a court martial.

The charges were made public by the Air Force Saturday and alleged that Gates:

1. "Sponsored" and gave "preferential treatment" to an automobile insurance and life insurance company during his six years' command at Chanute.

2. Gave false statements to investigating agents and a superior officer.

3. Took $7,500 from a life insurance company "for services to be rendered by him because of his official position."

4. Wrongly used government workers to develop and administer a housing project next to the 15,000-man base.

When Gates gave up his command last May, he boasted that he "cut red tape" and even borrowed $5,000 to start a housing project to provide for airmen's families near the big base.

His shortcut methods aroused the anger of "Pentagon brass," he confided to an audience of civil leaders from nearby Rantoul, Ill.

However, Gates said, the establishment of the housing projects was one of his proudest achievements at Chanute.

Gates is now retired from the Air Force and lives in Rantoul. But, an Air Force spokesman said, Gates will be put back on the active list "very soon" and will stay there until the investigation is completed.

Gates is a veteran of 38 years in the Air Force and, at the time of his retirement, was believed to be the last World War I flyer still on active duty.

Reared on a Montana ranch, Gates was one of the airmen who joined with the late Gen. Billy Mitchell during the early 20s in attempts to prove that airplanes could sink a battleship.

During World War II, Gates directed Air Force management controls. He became commander at Chanute in 1949.

Peabody Merger Is Completed

CHICAGO (U.P.) — Peabody Coal Co. today announced the completion of its merger with the Sinclair group of coal companies.

The Peabody board of directors revealed at their annual meeting that the transaction had been completed July 12.

Under the plan, all of the stock in the Sinclair group was exchanged for the 6,492,164 shares of Peabody stock.

Peabody said it and its subsidiaries have about 100 million dollars in assets and annual soft coal production of 20 million tons.

The 24 mines of the combined companies, located in Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Missouri and Oklahoma, have coal reserves estimated at about 1,700,000,000 tons.

The firm said coal sales will continue to be handled by Peabody, Sinclair and Southern Coal companies.

As a result of the consolidation, the company said it expects earnings to be "sufficient to justify a resumption" of dividends on Peabody preferred stock "within a year," and on common stock "during the year 1956."

The board of directors elected Otto Gressens, former president of Peabody, as chairman of the board.

L. Russell Kelce, president of the Sinclair group, was named to succeed Gressens as Peabody president. Merle C. Kelce, Sinclair group vice president, became executive vice president of Peabody.

Peabody officers re-elected included Frank J. Hoyle, H. C. McCollum and R. J. Snyder, vice presidents; E. L. Larson, treasurer; W. G. Blood, secretary, and K. Dawson, auditor.

President Drenched As Nixon Bans Umbrellas At Welcome

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon banned umbrellas Sunday at the welcome for President and Mrs. Eisenhower despite rain showers. The President was drenched as a result of the order.

Nixon said the ban was for "obvious reasons," apparently referring to the pre-World War II days when British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's umbrella became a symbol of appeasement of Nazi Germany at Munich.

Bulganin and Krushchev Stop in Berlin

BERLIN (U.P.) — Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin made it clear today that German reunification must await conclusion of a European security pact — a viewpoint that deadlocked the Geneva conference.

Fulganin and Soviet Communist Party Chief Nikita S. Khrushchev stopped off in Berlin for "several days" of talks with East German Communist leaders. Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov and other members of the summit delegation flew on to Moscow.

Bulganin, in a brief speech at Schoenefeld Airfield, repeated the Soviet viewpoint expressed at Geneva and said "there is no doubt" the Soviet government "will follow this line steadfastly" in future discussions of the German question.

His firm insistence on a security pact that would include both East and West Germany as members indicated there would be no change in the Soviet position when the Big Four foreign ministers try to solve the impasse next October.

Bulganin, visiting East Germany at the invitation of Soviet Zone Premier Otto Grotewohl, hailed the results of the Geneva talks as he had before leaving the Swiss city. He said the talks had "positive results" and would have a "favorable effect" on international relations.

But in speeches here and in Geneva he said all problems were not solved, especially the key question of Germany. He based his objections to Western plans on West German membership in NATO and said this made it impossible to unify Germany on a "peaceful and democratic basis."

ADENAUER TO VISIT MOSCOW BEFORE OCTOBER MEETING

MUERREN, Switzerland (U.P.) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer announced today he will go to Moscow to confer with Soviet leaders some time before the October meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers.

Adenauer said he felt it would be "impolite to wait" until after the foreign ministers' meeting.

Mrs. Ottie Reeder Dies at Eldorado

Mrs. Grace Reeder, 63, wife of Ottie Reeder, 2104 Illinois Avenue, Eldorado, died Sunday at 5:10 p. m. at her home following a paralytic stroke.

She was the daughter of Harris Mark Williams and Mary Jane Morris Williams. Her husband is the owner of Reeder Awnings and Harness shop in Eldorado.

Surviving with her husband are three daughters, Mrs. Douglas (Irene) Welton, New York City, Mrs. John (Helen) Hodge, Eldorado, and Mrs. Fannie (Betty) Hendrix, Eldorado, formerly of Harrisburg; one son, John Harris Reeder, Carbondale, two sisters, Mrs. Sadie Mathis, Eldorado, Mrs. Edna Leitch, Golden Gate, Ill.; one brother, Roger Williams, Enfield, and seven grandchildren.

The body lies in state at the Bean and Tanner funeral home and funeral plans await word from the daughter in New York City.

Metropolis Druggist Named to IPAC

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Appointment of Harry H. Humma, druggist of Metropolis, to fill a vacancy in the Illinois Public Aid commission, was announced here today by the office of Gov. William G. Stratton.

Humma replaces Harry Erton, Harrisburg, who was appointed last March but was never confirmed by the Illinois Senate.

Humma's appointment is for a term which expires in January 1957.

Other members of the Illinois Public Aid commission include Harold G. Baker, East St. Louis, Dr. Marietta Stevenson, Urbana, and George McKibbin, Chicago, chairman of the commission.

Earthquake Hits Tokyo

TOKYO (U.P.) — A heavy rolling earthquake shook buildings in downtown Tokyo Sunday. There was no reports of damage.

President and Dulles Brief Congress Group

U. S. and China Agree to Discuss Return of Americans

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles gave congressional leaders a "very hopeful" report today on the Geneva summit meeting and assurances that there were "no secret agreements of any kind."

They told the Democratic and Republican leaders that while they are hopeful about results of the Big Four conference, they have not "discounted" the problems ahead.

Meanwhile, the drive to reduce world tensions switched from Geneva to Washington and the Far East with these developments:

1. The United States and Red China agreed to a meeting at the ambassadorial level in Geneva Aug. 1 to discuss the return of 51 Americans held by Communist China and "certain other practical matters now at issue between both sides."

A State Department spokesman cautioned that the U. S.-China talks will not involve the Formosa crisis or U. S. recognition of Red China.

George Wants Meeting

2. Chairman Walter F. George of the Senate Foreign Relations committee called for a U. S. Red China meeting at the foreign ministers' level to discuss the Formosa problem and other causes of Far East tension. George who attended the White House briefing on the Geneva Big Four talks, said afterwards that there was "some little discussion" of his proposal.

He said Dulles indicated there would be some talks with Red China.

George replied "oh, yes," when asked if he meant at the foreign ministers' level. But there has been no word from either the White House or State Department to indicate that this government is ready to talk with the Peiping regime at the ministers' level.

A White House statement issued after the congressional briefing said that President Eisenhower had said that he thought the outstanding feature of the Geneva meeting was "the apparently sincere desire expressed by the Soviet delegation to discuss world problems in the future in an atmosphere of friendliness and will."

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Eisenhower Dinner In Geneva
With Gruenther And Radford
Pointed Up His Soldier-Politician Problem At Conference; Military Brass Like Ike But Not His Policies—Feared He Might Yield Too Much In Relieving U. S.-Soviet Tension.

GENEVA. — One of the most significant of the many dinners President Eisenhower attended in Geneva was a quiet supper for Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther and Adm. Arthur W. Radford which highlighted the split problem Eisenhower faced during the Big Four conference — whether to act like the soldier or like the politician.

At Geneva, the objectives of the two were directly opposite. As soldier and commander-in-chief, Eisenhower has to safeguard the strength of American armed forces. As an international politician, he had to ease the tension between the USA and the USSR.

And the reason Gruenther and Radford unexpectedly rushed to Geneva was because, to military men, it seemed that Ike was being too much the politician and falling too hard for the Soviet smile.
This doesn't mean that these two military leaders are anxious to promote war or that they opposed a ceasefire in the cold war. But it does mean what most people have realized in the past—that, when it came to inspiring western unity and adequate arms defense, Joe Stalin was the best friend the United States had.

Stalin's scowls, his bellicose diplomacy, his sabre-rattling scared
a reluctant American Congress into more arms appropriations and a reluctant Europe into the NATO alliance. But with Stalin's scowls now replaced by Bulganin's smile and Khrushchev's waves at pretty girls, the path of congressional arms appropriations may be thorny and the way of NATO cooperation slow.

WHAT MILITARY FEARS
If there's going to be genuine European disarmament, a genuine end to the cold war and a real era of Russian understanding, then the military can raise no objection.
But what they fear is the sale of their firepower for a smile. Ike, they fear, may be too prone to run for President again in 1956 on a prince-of-peace platform that he ended the cold war.

While they like Ike, they don't trust his policies.

Generally speaking, the military get more gun money from the Republicans and they've never forgotten how another Republican administration, under Warren Harding, threw away U. S. naval supremacy at the Washington arms conference in return for mere smiles.

U. S. WEAPONS LAG
Before Ike left Washington for the conference here, he received various memos from the Pentagon showing how the U. S. is falling behind Russia in certain types of weapons. Among other things, Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington sent a letter to Secretary of Defense Wilson asking certain embarrassing questions about Soviet strength in jet bombers and intercontinental atomic bombers. The questions were so hot that Wilson refused to answer them.

However, President Eisenhower
has given the answers, which I can reveal to be as follows:

1. As nearly as our intelligence can estimate, Russia is ahead of us in developing a Moscow-to-New York ballistic missile and a short-range continental missile.

The United States is ahead, however, in developing atomic warheads for these deadly weapons,
which travel at such terrific speeds
that they can't be stopped.

2. Despite Wilson's promise to speed up B-52 production by 35 per cent, Russia will have more long-range jet bombers than the U. S.
by 1958. Yet the shocking truth is that Wilson either can't or won't implement his promise for a 25 per cent production increase here.

Though the Air Force will get about 30 giant B-25s this year, this is no more than the original schedule called for. Meanwhile, little has been done to speed up the production lines in Seattle and Wichita, where our only two B-52 plants are located.

3. The Soviets are already far ahead of the U. S. in numbers of advanced fighters in operational service. The new Russian super-sonic fighter and all-weather inter-ceptor recently unveiled over Moscow are also better planes than any American fighters now in squadron service.

4. Soviet engineers have also produced jet engines with a greater thrust than any produced in the U. S.

5. Despite our reputation for mass production, the Soviets have demonstrated they can tool up for mass production faster than we have been doing. In other words, the Russians have cut the "lead time" that it takes a new plane to progress from the blueprint stage to production. As a result, our defense planners drastically underestimated how fast Russia could get long-range jet bombers into production.

6. At present rates of progress, Russia will not only have more and better planes than the United States, but, by 1960, will have more scientists and engineers working on airpower.

This is why Radford and Gruen-ther want to make sure their old friend isn't carried away by Soviet smiles.

Note — On the other hand, President Eisenhower knows you can't make any real progress toward disarmament and peace unless you are willing to put the other side in a mood to meet you halfway.

Civil Service Exams Here July 30

The Illinois Civil Service Commission at Springfield has announced that examinations for the positions of attendant, cottage parent, guard and warder will be held in Harrisburg on Saturday, July 30.

Men who can meet the high qualifications for the guard position will have excellent opportunities for employment at the Joliet Stateville penitentiary, the commission said.
All candidates who pass the written test for guard will be investigated as to personal fitness and must pass a physical examination
before appointment.

Attendants are needed at institutions in the northern part of the state and candidates who qualify on the test and who are willing to accept employment where vacancies exist may be offered positions on the day of the examination. The cottage parent and warder examinations also offer good employment possibilities, the commission said.

Persons interested in these positions may compete in the examinations by reporting to the Harrisburg Township high school at 9 a. m. on July 30. Further information may be obtained from local offices of the State Employment Service or from the Illinois Civil Service Commission, 501 Army
building, Springfield.

FTC Finds Outboard Motor Firm in Violation Of Anti-Trust Laws

WASHINGTON. —An examiner
for the Federal Trade Commission has found an Illinois firm which is the nation's biggest maker of outboard motors to be in violation of the anti-trust laws.

Examiner Frank Hier held Sunday that exclusive dealer contracts enforced by the outboard Marine & Manufacturing Co. of Waukegan tend to create a monopoly.

Hier said the firm compels its customers to sell only its makes—
"Johnson Sea Horse," "Evinrude," and "Bucanier"—and thus deprives purchasers of freedom to deal in competitive products.

The Articles of Confederation
were adopted by the Continental Congress on Nov. 15, 1777.

Turncoats Sail For U. S. After Honolulu Visit

HONOLULU. —Three exGI
turncoats, described by a clergyman as the "most mixed-up children I have ever seen," sailed today for San Francisco.

The three—William Cowart, 23,
Dalton, Ga.; and Otho G. Bell,
24, Hilsboro, Mass.; and Lewis Griggs, 22, Neches, Tex.—said they had a "grand time" in Honolulu,
where they spent 14 carefree hours.

"I lost every inch of tension in my body," said Cowart. "They offered us everything in the book.
We saw all the beautiful sights in Hawaii and they will live in our memory."

The three resumed their journey
back to the United States Sunday night aboard the SS President Cleveland, which is due in San Francisco Friday.

During their voyage from Japan,
the turncoats have been befriended by two clergymen, the Rev.
Henry Bruinooge, a Christian Reformed Church missionary from Grand, Mich., and the Rev. Philip Williams of the Evangelical Reformed Church.

Asked what were his impressions of the three men who chose to remain with their Chinese Communist captors after the Korean War, Bruinooge replied:

"They are the most mixed up children I have ever seen. I have no more idea of what their future will be than these men have themselves."

Earlier Sunday, Bell telephoned
his sobbing wife in Olympia, Wash., and got her to promise that she
and their 4-year-old daughter, Paula, whom he never has seen,
to meet him Friday in San Francisco.

Cowart got a call through to his mother, Mrs. Chester Green, Monticello, Ark.

"We didn't have much to say,"
he said. "All we did was just blubber."

Eucharistic Congress Closed By Pope's Message

RIO DE JANEIRO. —Pope Pius XII closed the 26th International night with a hymn of praise to the powers of the Eucharist as a source of Christian energy for good in the world.

The Pope, speaking in Portuguese, broadcast his message by radio from Vatican City to millions of residents of the world's most populous Roman Catholic country and to pilgrims from 50 nations attending the final ceremonies of the week-long congress.

Citing the origin of the Holy Eucharist and its sacramental uses as a means of demonstrating man's love of God, the Pontiff said:
"In these full days, you have multiplied the demonstrations of Eucharistic piety."

"Those demonstrations were visible in holy hours of the day and night, in churches and in religious houses, in hospitals and prisons," he said.

"In the Eucharist," the pope continued, "you have found the greatest energy to spread Christianity and to insure with memorable actions the integrity of the nation and the unity of faith."

More than 220,000 persons assembled in vast Congress Square to listen to the address—the crowning highlight of the year's leading Catholic event. Prior to the broadcast, the throngs participated in a dedication of Brazil to Christ and the concluding Mass, celebrated by Benedetto A. Cardinal Masella, the Pope's personal representative.

Surveys Will Determine Location Of 100 New State Patrolmen

SPRINGFIELD. —Population and highway mileage surveys will be made in Illinois' 14 state police districts to determine where the state's 100 new patrolmen will be most effective, Police Superintendent Phil M. Brown said today.

When the new men are finally selected, trained and assigned, he said, they will be used chiefly to enforce highway safety and reduce traffic deaths.

The 100 new state police were provided in a bill passed by the 69th General Assembly and signed by Gov. William G. Stratton to increase the size of the force from 500 to 600 men.

Applications for the 100 new jobs
will be accepted until July 31, Brown said. No date has been set yet for the training school for the new men.

Where Most Needed

Brown said the population and highway mileage surveys would be used to "assign the men where they are most needed."

He said the men would be used to "fill out" patrols which now
"average about 1.3 men per county, a total of about 380 men patrolling around the clock."

He said the new men "should help to step up all our operations," but that they will be used "chiefly to cut down highway accidents."

Brown said there was no way to estimate what effect the increased state police force would have on highway safety.

However, he said an experiment in which the patrols on certain highways were doubled for a 30-day period produced a "substantial very noticeable" reduction in the usual number of accidents in the area.

"Percentage-wise, an increase of 100 men should accomplish about the same substantial reduction,"
Brown said.

Shrugs Off Critics

Brown shrugged off criticisms made in the Legislature that state police were acting as "bingo detectives" and Republican poll watchers instead of concentrating on patrolling the highways.

"The time consumed on operations like gambling raids is very minute," he said, "compared to the attention given highway traffic."

Much of the legislative criticism originated with sheriffs and other local law enforcement officers who objected to state police taking charge of accidents on county highways and making crime investigations.

But Brown said "our relationship with local authorities is very fine."

He said about 90 per cent of local law enforcement agencies in the state "call on us for assistance." He said the state police only stage gambling raids and similar crime-busting operations at the request of local authorities or where there is a "complete breakdown" of local law enforcement.

Even then, he said, the state police act only after serving at least two notices on the local authorities.

DETROIT (UP)—General Motors said today its workers earned a record average weekly wage for United States workers during the first six months this year.

General Motors said the record was achieved even though defense work had dropped 25 percent from a year ago.

The big automobile concern said average employment of its world operations hit 624,954 during the six month period and payrolls $1,563,000,000. In the second quarter the average number of employees was 635,756 and payrolls $795,000,000, both new all time quarterly records.

In the first six months, workers averaged 43.5 hours a week due to overtime and weekly earnings averaged $103.09 compared to $89.31 a year ago. In the car, truck, body and assembly divisions, workers averaged $106.36 a week, General Motors said.

AFL Teamsters Buy Home for President Beck

WASHINGTON (UP)—The AFL Teamsters Union said today it has bought Union President Dave Beck's luxurious Seattle home from him for $160,000 and is footing his household bills while he lives there rent-free.

The purchase was approved by the union's 12-member executive board last March but was not made public.

In acknowledging the action today, Minar O. Mohr, vice president and assistant to Beck, said "It has been the policy of the international union for many years to provide a home in which the general president can live, entertain and transact business of the union."

Mohr pointed out that the union bought two homes for its former president, Daniel J. Tobin—one at Miami Beach, Fla., and another at Marshfield, Mass., a summer resort near Boston. Tobin, now president emeritus, still occupies both homes.

Beck bought his lake-front home, which sports a large swimming pool, a man-made waterfall and a motion picture project room, five years ago for an undisclosed price.

Gov't Cuts Huge Hoard of Butter

WASHINGTON (U.S. Govt.)—The government is finally getting rid of its surplus butter. The once-mountainous hoard has been cut more than 50 per cent in the last year.
Francis W. Immasche, an Agriculture Department dairy official, predicted surplus butter stocks may be down to "a very low point" by next spring.
Butter government price support buying might be expected to pick up again after April when the best milk producing season begins, Immasche said.
Butter piling up in government storage under the farm support program was one of the administration's biggest headaches last year. In early 1954, Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson was unhappy buying millions of pounds daily—faster than he could give it away.
But department officials report that their butter stocks have been cut to 179 million pounds compared with 461 million pounds a year ago. Cheese stocks, also acquired under the price support program, were down from 422 million pounds to 273 million. Surplus non-fat dry-milk solids were cut from 293 million to 157 million pounds.
The government is losing most of its investment in the butter moved out of surplus stocks.
Benson was able to sell only 14 million pounds of government butter on the commercial market last year. He gave away 187 million pounds to school lunchrooms and other domestic institutions, 138 million pounds to foreign relief, and disposed of another 85 million pounds in cut rate foreign and domestic deals.

Seek Hitchhiker-Bandit for Shooting, Robbing Peoria Man

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (U.S. Police)—Police are searching for a hitchhiker-bandit, who shot Anthony Acuff, 28, Peoria, through the head Sunday and robbed him of $16.
Acuff is reported in good condition at Good Samaritan hospital here.
Acuff told authorities he picked up the hitchhiker about five miles from here. After they drove a while, Acuff said the hitchhiker ordered him to turn off the highway and marched him into a cornfield.
Acuff said when they got into the field, the hitchhiker took $16 from him and shot him.
Acuff said the hitchhiker missed $80 he had in his watchpocket.
The hitchhiker drove off in Acuff's car, and Acuff crawled 250 yards to a farmhouse for help. He told authorities the hitchhiker was about 40 years old and had talked of living in Centerville, Tenn., and working recently in Indianapolis.

Boy, 14, to Attempt Swimming Record in Mississippi River

ST. LOUIS (U.S.)—A 14-year-old Argentinean, Roberto Maddalena Jr., will attempt to set an individual swimming record of 60 to 65 miles Tuesday in the Mississippi River.
The youth, protégé of Antonio Aberlondo, South American long distance swimmer, will try the feat as a prelude to Aberlondo's challenge to the present Mississippi distance record.

Name All-Stars In Carrier Mills Baseball Leagues

All-Star players for the Carrier Mills summer baseball leagues have been announced by Claude Shelton. The players will enjoy a trip to St. Louis Thursday, July 28, to see the Cardinals play the Pittsburgh Pirates. The All-Stars, accompanied by Mr. Shelton and Howard Street, will leave from the Carrier Mills high school at 10 a. m., Thursday.

Consent slips from parents should be turned in by the All-Star players by Tuesday, 6 p. m.

Fifteen players have been named from each league and alternates named if some cannot go.

All-star players are as follows:

Major League—Bert Mitchell, p.; L. Adams, c.; L. Smith, 1b.; H. Davis, 2b.; Russell, 3b.; Owens, ss.; Elms, if.; Henshaw, cf.; Feltz, rf.; utility—Bryant, p.; Buckner, c.; Parks, infield; Whitting, outfield; Lewis and J. Blackman, Alternates will be Roberts, Collins, Walker, File and Johnson.

Minor League—Richerson, p.; O'Keefe, c.; Van Hoy, 1b.; Shelton, 2b.; James, Overstreet, 3b.; B. Smith, ss.; B. Absher, if.; Taborn, cf.; Cole, rf.; utility—C. Smith, p.; R. Davis, c.; R. Roe, infield; if. Prather, outfield; P. Prather and L. Pyle, Alternates are J. R. Rouse, G. Hutson and K. D. Russell.

Major League—L. Evans, p.; Collins, c.; Cowger, 1b.; Gullidge, 2b.; Reid, 3b.; B. Absher, ss.; Bob Mitchell, if.; Allen, cf.; Stewart, rf.; utility—Keys, p.; J. Wilkins, c.; Jack Overstreet, infield; Moake, outfield; J. Thomas and V. Rollins, Alternates are King, Raborn, Feltz, Norman and Reeder.

The All-stars were named by checking season's statistics. Mr. Shelton stated. Therefore, the ones who played regularly had better percentages than those who had played in just a few games.

Stars Drop 3-2 Pitchers' Duel To Johnston City

The Harrisburg Stars suffered their seventh loss of the season yesterday, dropping a pitchers' duel to Johnston City, 3 to 2.

Don Wallace went the distance for the Stars, giving up but four hits and striking out five. Big Don Wall, left-hander, who is the property of the New York Giants, nipped Johnston City, also giving up four hits. He had 12 strikeouts to his credit.

Johnston City scored two runs in the fourth to break the tie, on an error by Ziegler and a three-base blow by Tadlock. The Stars tied the game in the fifth when Bledig singled and Smith hit what would have been a single except that the ball took a crazy bounce into some weeds on the left field foul line. Before the Johnston City fielder could recover the ball Smith scored behind Bledig for a home run.

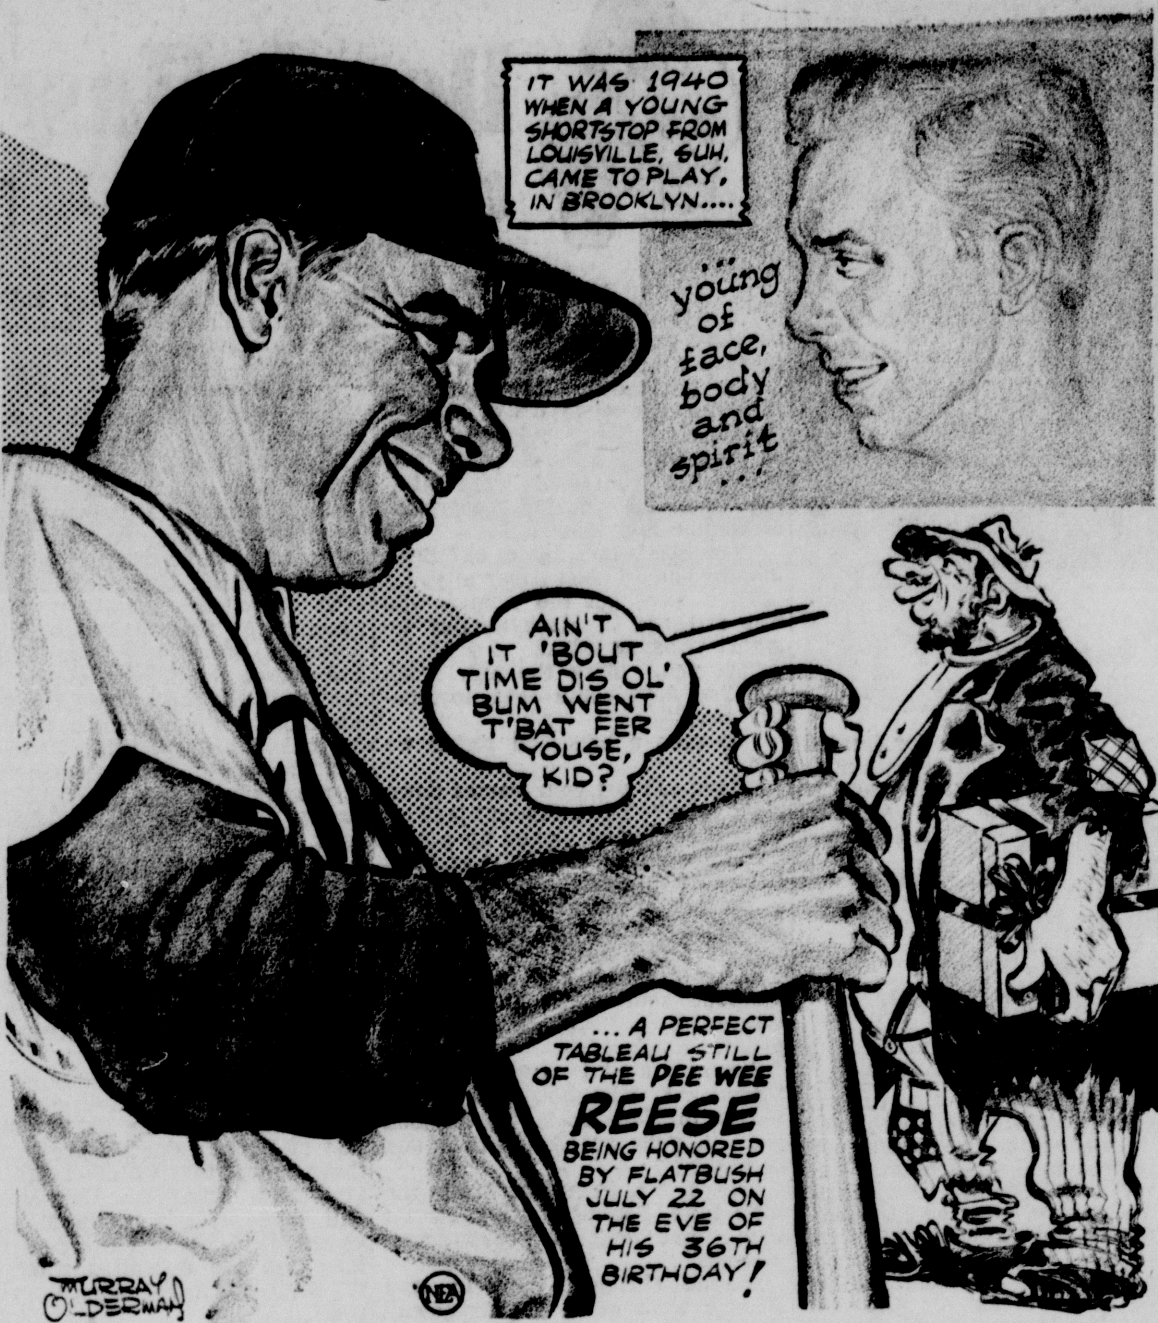

Johnston City scored the winning run in the eighth when Ernest singled, stole second and scored on Tadlock's second hit of the game. Tadlock led both teams at bat with two hits, with Ernest and Machine collecting the other two blows for Johnston City.

Karnes, Bledig, Smith and Wallace got the Star hits.

Next Sunday the Stars will travel to Mayfield, Ky., to meet the strong, colored Black Hawks. The Hawks hold a 4 to 3 decision over the Stars in a contest played at Harrisburg.

Middlecoff, Bolt, Ford, Mayfield In Semifinal Play

NORTHVILLE, Mich. (CP)—Cary Middlecoff, the winner of a dramatic 40-hole match against Jack Burke, faced Tommy Bolt while Doug Ford opposed Shelley Mayfield in the semifinal round of the PGA golf championship today.

They reached this next to last round of the greatest endurance test in golf with some of the most exciting shot-making the 37-year-old tournament ever has seen.

Bolt, driving with breathtaking precision defeated Lew Worsham of Oakmont, Pa., 8 and 7. Mayfield, the slender blond from Westbury, N. Y., ousted Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill., 3 and 2, while Ford, going 28 under par for 128 holes, flattened Fred Hawkins of St. Andrews, Ill., 5 and 4.

Middlecoff's victory in the quarter-finals Sunday not only was dramatic—it was lucky, too. But the pro's leading money winner this season took advantage of the breaks and also played some of the best golf of his career, for he was two down with two holes to go against his fellow-playing pro from Klamath Lake, N. Y.

Gambles On Every Shot
Gambling on every shot, he birdied those last two holes—it gave him three birdies on the last five holes of the scheduled 36-hole match—to draw even after Burke had led 5 up at the halfway mark. Middlecoff apologized for playing so slowly.

"But I have a form of hay fever and this hot weather really bothers me," he said. "So before we started out yesterday morning I went to Jack, told him I was dead tired, and would need a lot of time today and that I hoped it wouldn't upset his game. Jack assured me that it wouldn't."

"I'm so tired now, I don't see how I can go 36 holes today. I'm not allying in advance, but in this heat it is almost impossible for me to breathe."

Bolt complained that "I had to scramble a lot" as he turned back Worsham. But Tommy was 14 under par for 116 holes, attesting that his game isn't too bad.

Bolt got a break on Friday—one of the hottest days of the year—when he won his first round match by default from Al Watrous, a veteran from Birmingham, Mich., who had an injured hand. And in a list of stamina such as this tournament, that could be the turning point in today's match.

Whoever wins it will be favored to take Ford or Mayfield. Mayfield is 11 under par for 134 holes.

Eldorado Defeats Evansville College All-Stars, 10 to 5

The Eldorado Merchants played host to the Evansville College All-Stars Sunday and defeated them 10 to 5, with a big seven-run fifth inning.

Feuquay started off the fifth with a single and Grubb was safe on an error. Beasley singled, Cooley doubled, Pulliam tripled, Thaxton singled, Sandusky tripled and Williams singled in that order for the seven-run inning.

Eldorado picked up another run in the sixth on Beasley's single and Pulliam's second triple, a long smash over the center fielder's head. The final two runs came in the eighth on singles by Beasley, Cooley and Pulliam.

For Eldorado it was 10 runs and 14 hits, with three errors. Evansville made five runs on 10 hits and also made three errors. Evansville scored two runs in the fourth, one in the seventh and two in the eighth.

Eldorado's hitting was led by Beasley with four out of five, giving him 15 hits in his last 20 times at bat in four games. Pulliam had three hits—two triples and a single, Cooley a double and a single, Sandusky a triple and single and Thaxton, Williams and Feuquay a single each.

Sandusky was on the mound for Eldorado and he pitched a very good game, fanning six, walking four and allowing the 10 hits. Feuquay was his receiver. Merkle pitched and Baumeier caught for Evansville.

Next Sunday Eldorado will travel to Olney where they will face one of their old teammates, Bobby Malone. There will be practice sessions Tuesday and Friday nights at 5:30.

Del Ennis Sparks Phillies To 6-5, 3-0 Wins Over Cards; Yankees Regain First Place

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer
Del Ennis, the menace, second only to Stan Musial among active National leaguers in life time runs batted in, was on the hottest slugging spree of his career today and it was no coincidence that the Phillies were challenging for the second place consolation prize behind the runaway Dodgers.

Ennis is no glamour slammer like Musial, Ted Williams, Duke Snider, or Ted Kluszewski but the Philly outfielder quietly keeps piling up RBI's, 100 or more a season until he now has 987, only 13 short of 1,000 for his career. He has gone past the century mark in five of the past six seasons and today, with 78, second highest total in the majors to date, dependable Del seems sure to do it again.

He wound up a happy weekend Sunday in the Phil's 6-5, 3-0, sweep over the Cardinals, driving in all of the runs in the six-inning rain shortened nightcap with his fourth homer in two days after smacking a double and single in the opener and driving in another run. On Saturday, hitting three homers, he drove in seven runs. The Phils, who now have won 14 of their last 15 games, gained the opening triumph in a five-run third in which Bobby Morgan homered and Roy Smalley hit a three-run double. Jack Meyer struck out the side in a rescue job for Curt Simmons in the ninth of the opener and Saul Rogovin pitched his second blanker in a row as a Philley with a four hitter in the bob-tailed nightcap. Yankees Regain First Place

The Yankees regained first place in the American league by sweeping Kansas City, 7-3, 2-0 while Chicago split against Boston, winning 4-0 on Billy Pierce's seven-hitter, then losing 2-1. Cleveland moved into a virtual second place tie, two percentage points behind Chicago and a game behind the Yankees with 5-1, 5-2 triumphs over Baltimore. Detroit topped Washington 7-3 after which the Nats won 3-0.

Brooklyn stayed 1-2 in front in the National by splitting with second place Milwaukee, winning 9-7, then losing 9-2. Cincinnati topped New York to end a seven-game losing streak, then lost to the Giants, 4-1. Pittsburgh won its first doubleheader since last Labor Day, 12-5, 3-2 from Chicago.

Yogi Berra's two-run homer in the ninth gave rookie Johnny Kucks a six-hit triumph, his seventh, in a second game duel with Arnie Portocarrero, after the Yankees "rapped" up the opener in a six-run fourth in which Mickey Mantle's three-run double and Bill Skowron's homer were the big blows. Bill Renna and Gus Zernial tagged Whitey Ford for homers en route to his 11th win.

Al Carrasquel's three-run homer was the big hit Pierce needed for his seven-strikeout triumph and Willard Nixon pitched a steady 10-inning effort to beat Connie Johnson's five-hit losing effort in the second game. Sammy White drove in the winning run with a single.

Narleski to the Rescue
Ray Narleski, who now has relieved in 34 games and eight out of the last nine, bailed out Bob Feller and Early Wynn in Cleveland's twin wins. Al Rosen hit a first game homer. It was Feller's 265th win and third this year. Wynn, though tagged for 12 hits won his 12th game.

Rookie Ted Abernathy held Detroit to seven hits after the Tigers cashed in on homers by Al Kaline, Earl Torgeson, and Jim Delsing to win the opener.

Brooklyn put over seven runs in the sixth, three on Gil Hodges' 18th homer to win the opener, even though Don Newcombe was banged.

"THUNDERBIRD" ARRIVES AT WILSON-TAYLOR—Bob Wilson (standing) and C. E. Taylor (seated in car) proudly show off their new Ford sport car, the famed "Thunderbird," following its arrival at their Ford agency here. The racy little car, carrying the styling that has become a Ford hallmark this season, develops either 193 or 198 horsepower, depending on the transmission desired, and does well over 120 m.p.h. Built like a sports racer, but with appointments like the most luxurious touring cars, the Thunderbird offers a host of optional equipment to make it a real "dream car" for the sports-car fan. XXV
There was one night attendant on duty in the anteroom of the morgue when the detective and reporter got there. He sat dozing behind a scarred desk with a bright drop light directly overhead. He yawned widely and showed a gap where two front teeth were missing when he grinned recognition of Shayne and Rourke.

"You two ghouls again, eh? Been months since I seen either of you." "You have got the woman who was drowned in Biscayne Bay to-night?" Shayne asked.

"Oh yeh. She's the only fresh un. You boys come down to identify her?"

"To take a look and see if we can." "Have tuh put your names down right here." The attendant produced two cards and picked up a pen. "You know the rules good as I do. Lemme see, now."

"No 4. Mr. President," said the little man gleefully. "I knew I'd seen that mug of yours somewhere."

Shayne shrugged and he and Rourke went down a passageway.

ingness and to sit down together to work out differences."

The statement said the President added that "this of course is a hopeful development but quite naturally does not of itself warrant any relaxation of the mutual security measures we and our Allies of the free world are now pushing."

No Secret Agreements

It said the President assured the legislative leaders that "no secret agreement has been made nor had any private papers been initiated" at the conference.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty read the statement to reporters. Asked if there was any discussion of Red China at the congressional briefing, Hagerty said it was discussed but only in light of the State Department's announcement about the ambassadors' meeting at Geneva Aug. 1.

He said Red China was not discussed in relation to Sen. George's proposal for a meeting at the foreign ministers' level.

Asked if the President discussed his relationship or discussions with his former wartime comrade-in-arms, Soviet Marshal Georgi Zhukov, Hagerty said the President did so "briefly."

The statement from the White House said that after the President had discussed the conference in Geneva, Dulles then gave "a detailed presentation of day-to-day discussions at Geneva and an analysis of the final agreed directive."

Congressional leaders who heard Mr. Eisenhower's report reacted optimistically. They said the situation as reported by the President is "very hopeful" and they felt that, on the basis of the report, that the international "atmosphere" is better.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) gave reporters an account of the 1-1/2 hour White House session, at which he said the President and Dulles gave the leaders a "full and complete" report on the Geneva meeting.

Knowland said they assured the bipartisan leaders that "no secret agreements of any kind" were entered into at Geneva "directly or indirectly."

Interesting, Rayburn Says

Speaker Sam Rayburn (Tex.) said Mr. Eisenhower gave the group "a very interesting briefing." He also reported that the legislators were assured that "no agreements had been made, secret or otherwise."

"I think they made a very hopeful report," he said.

At 10:30 p. m. EDT, Mr. Eisenhower will make another report—this one to the people—over nationwide radio and television networks. His 15-minute speech will summarize the results of his face-to-face diplomacy with Russian, British, and French leaders.

Clare Boothe Luce Meets with Pope

ROME (AP)—U. S. embassy officials dismissed speculation today that there was any political significance attached to U. S. Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce's meeting with Pope Pius XII.

"Mrs. Luce decided that at long last she would like to call on the Pope," an embassy spokesman said. He added that Mrs. Luce, a converted Roman Catholic, called on the Pontiff "as one Catholic to another."

The Pope received Mrs. Luce in a private audience in the Papal Library Sunday. The 45-minute audience, one of the longest the Pope has granted in recent years, was their first meeting since Mrs. Luce became U. S. ambassador to Italy 27 months ago.

The dollar value of U. S. farm exports was up 15 per cent in the first eight months of the current fiscal year, compared with a year earlier.

The Daily Register 25c a week by carrier boy.

to a heavy door opening onto a flight of stairs leading down into the concrete-lined coldroom.

The air in the small square room was dank and very chill. Although it was pure and air-conditioned, it never seemed to lose its indefinable odor. There were two white enamel tables in the center of the room, a bank of white, oversize filing cabinets along one wall. Each cabinet had three drawers, six feet long and about three feet square, with consecutive numbers neatly stenciled on the front of each.

Shayne drew in a deep breath and seized the handle of the top drawer in the second row and pulled it out. A white cloth covered the naked body of the woman he had last seen in Rourke's company at the tourist cabin when she hesitantly disavowed recognition of Jack Bristow.

Neither man wasted more than one glance at the face. In the bright overhead light, a welt on her stomach showed clearly. Both had seen the scars left by an operation for appendicitis, and to their non-professional eyes, this looked typical and had the appearance of being rather recent.

Shayne pulled the cloth over her body and shoved the drawer shut. "So that really doesn't prove anything except that we can't say she isn't Mrs. Allendice. Doc Martin will have made a preliminary investigation. We can ask him how long ago the operation was, but it's my guess it was about the right time."

"Mine, too," agreed Rourke as they turned back to climb the stairs. "What's our next move?"

This was decided for them before Shayne had an opportunity to reply. When they reentered the anteroom, they saw Chief Will Gentry and Doc Martin, ranking police surgeon of Miami, standing in front of the desk in conversation with the bald man.

Gentry rocked back on his heels and regarded them balefully as they approached.

"Where's Lucy Hamilton, Mike? I want her down here."

"Lucy Hamilton?" Shayne didn't have to simulate the surprise in his voice. "In bed, I guess. What you want her for?"

"I think you know, Mike," Gentry's voice was uncompromising. "And she isn't at home. At least, she doesn't answer her phone."

Shayne stiffened. He said, "I don't know, Will. Tim and I left her there half an hour ago, and I told her to get some sleep."

"Don't give me a run-around," Gentry's face was choleric, his voice heavy with suppressed anger. "If you're hiding her out so she can't come down here to tell us whether or not this woman is Arlene Bristow, it'll mean your license."

"Hold it, Will," Shayne's voice was even, but it became hard to match the Chief's accusation. "I haven't lied to you. Certainly not about Lucy. If she isn't at home I'm more worried about her than you are."

Gentry pounded at him. "Why did you and Tim make a trip down here unless it was to see if she answered Lucy's description of Jack Bristow's sister?"

"Because we wondered if she might be someone else," Shayne looked past Gentry to the police surgeon. "You notice that scar on her tummy, Doc?"

"The appendectomy?"

"How recent would you say?"

Dr. Martin shrugged. "Within the last six months at least. I was—"
